

Notice on the Cancellation of China CNC Machine Tool Fair 2020(CCMT2020)

Dear All:

Since the announcement of postponing China CNC Machine Tool Fair 2020 (CCMT2020) on February 14, we have been paying close attention to the development of epidemic situation at home and abroad, also keeping communication and consultation with relevant departments of Shanghai municipal government and Venue owners, actively exploring and discussing the extension scheme for holding the exhibition.

At present, the breakout of COVID19 pandemic spreads continuously in many regions abroad, and occasionally imported and localized cases occur in China as well, there are many uncertain factors in the trend of epidemic prevention; international logistics and passenger flow are under strict control, the mobility of domestic people is not completely normal either; production and operation of some industrial enterprises and users are not yet fully recovered; the prepared running schedule provided by Shanghai venue owners is insufficient; relevant departments of Shanghai municipal government put forward the requirements of "real name system, preregistration and flow restriction" for holding exhibitions during the epidemic prevention and control period, making the organization and management of visitors more difficult to achieve the ideal show effect.

In order to feasibly safeguard the interests of national & regional pavilions and exhibitors to ensure the health and safety of relevant personnel, after careful evaluation, intensive communication and investigation with foreign exhibitor groups, exhibitors, relevant departments of Shanghai municipal government and venue owners (special consideration goes to the pertinent proposals from overseas peer associations), now it is decided that China CNC Machine Tool Fair 2020 (CCMT2020) which was originally scheduled to be held in Shanghai New International Expo Center from April 7th to 11th, 2020 will be cancelled.

The above information is hereby reported to the associations and organizations of various countries and regions, hoping you could convey the relevant information to exhibitors of your exhibition group.

Thank you for your understanding and support over the years! We apologize for the inconvenience caused to you by the cancellation of the exhibition. We will properly arrange and deal with follow-up matters, and stand with you together through thick and thin.

The 17th China International Machine Tool Show (CIMT2021) will be held in Beijing at China International Exhibition Center (New Venue) on April 12th-17th, 2021, and the exhibition schemes for domestic and foreign exhibitors will be started soon. We will do our best to prepare and organize the exhibition of CIMT2021, and we are very confident to bring you a safe and effective global industry event after the pandemic!
